Online Resources for Graduate Students

Beyond the Professoriate

The Laney Graduate School is pleased to offer LGS graduate students access to Beyond the Professoriate's professional development training platform. The platform offers recorded workshops in preparing for a range of career paths, panels and interviews with PhDs working in a variety of positions, and an interactive workbook to help guide you through the career exploration and application process.

Access the tool here. (You must be a current LGS student to authenticate. Select "Login through your institution" and select Emory University.)

LinkedIn: The Missing Manual

LinkedIn: The Missing Manual is a complete, step-by-step online course to mastering LinkedIn. This is the only guide to LinkedIn created by former LinkedIn employees. In this course, you will learn how effective networking using LinkedIn can help you land a great job, including skills such as researching opportunities, communicating with employers, and building connections.

Access the tool here.

Professional Development and Career Planning Resource Repository

We have accumulated recordings and resources related to our offices' trainings for graduate students. We have made these available on our PDPC Resource Repository, which is a Canvas page that may be accessed by permission.

To request access, please contact the Professional Development and Career Planning office at (lgs.profdev@emory.edu). Once you have been granted access, you may access the Resource Repository here.

Additional Special Online Tools Available to Graduate Students

As a student in the Laney Graduate School, you have access to other online resources for building skills and exploring careers. We have created a list of these online resources to help our students find the tools they are looking for.
